

ALL SAINTS' READY FOR CONSECRATION

Service to Be Conducted by Bishop Gibson on Trinity Sunday, May 18.

SERMON BY REV. E. L. GOODWIN

Bonded Debt on Building Raised by Series of Easter Payments. Shows Big Growth.

All Saints' Episcopal Church, at 308 West Franklin Street, is to be consecrated on Trinity Sunday, May 18, at 10 o'clock in the morning by Rt. Rev. Robert A. Gibson, D. D., Bishop of Virginia, and the consecration sermon will be preached by Rev. E. L. Goodwin, of Ashland. The plans for the consecration were made public by the rector, Rev. J. Y. Downman, D. D., yesterday.

The bonded debt upon the building, which is one of the handsome churches in Richmond, and cost $200,000, has been raised by a series of payments made on Easter of each year. The last of the bonds having been retired last Easter, the time for the formal consecration has now come.

The occasion will be further marked by special music, under the direction of the organist and choirman, F. A. Crosby.

Shows Wonderful Growth.

All Saints' is one of the older churches of the city, having originated as an offshoot of Monumental Episcopal Church. The first service was held in 1888, and in 1889 All Saints' was received into council, with twenty communicants. On the eve of its consecration, it has 425 communicants and a record of 800 having been confirmed. During the twenty-four years of its activity, it has contributed $300,000 to foreign missions.

The first building that housed the All Saints' congregation was the small one on Madison Street, which is now used as a Sunday school and parish house. The present structure was built about fifteen years ago.

All Saints' is distinguished as the only church in the South which has a vested male choir, and the well-known excellence of this organization will be a feature of the consecration. The vestry of the church is as follows:

Senior warden, P. H. Mayo; Junior warden and treasurer, John R. Carter, Jr.; secretary, Frederick S. Valentine; Dr. John Dunn, Dr. Hugh M. Taylor, James N. Boyd, T. N. Carter, Robert J. Thornton, John Tyler, Otis M. Alfriend, Mann S. Valentine and Thomas L. Moore.

NORFOLK SERGEANT WANTS STATE FEES

Lawler Asks for Mandamus Against State Auditor C. Lee Moore.

The inner workings of the fee system in Virginia are partially explained in an extended petition for mandamus brought in the City Circuit Court yesterday by J. W. Lawler, City Sergeant of Norfolk, against C. Lee Moore, State Auditor of Public Accounts.

Sergeant Lawler claims that under Section 3332 of the Code of Virginia he is entitled to a fee of 50 cents for receiving any person into the jail under his charge when first committed. On the ground that Sergeant Lawler receives an annual salary from the city of Norfolk, in addition to his State fees, Auditor Moore, in approving the claims of the Norfolk sergeant for November, 1912, approved all claims for the care and keep of prisoners, but refused to allow an item of $185.50 for commitment fees for that month, at 50 cents for each prisoner sent to jail.

Sergeant Lawler was represented by Judge D. Tucker Brooks and James F. Minor, of Norfolk and Smith & Gordon, of Richmond. Attorney-General Williams appeared for the State Auditor. After hearing argument, the court gave the Attorney-General five days in which to file a brief, and the petition was continued thereafter in which to file an answer.

Short News Stories From All Over Virginia

FISHING SEASON ENDS.

Reports from Packing Houses Indicate Unusually Small Catches.

Lancaster, Va., May 6.—The shad and herring fishing season is practically ended, and reports from the various packing houses indicate that up to this time only about 60 per cent of the usual amount of these fish has been caught. The season for the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries is attributed to the fact that the water is still too warm for the fish to come in. The season for the Hatteras and Pamlico rivers is also attributed to the fact that the water is still too warm for the fish to come in.

The people contend that the fishing of heavy guns in the bay tends to drive the fish out through the Cape into the deep waters of the ocean. There is some talk about having Congress to investigate the matter, and if the complaint is found to be true, the fishing season in the future. Certain it is that fish have been much scarcer this season than heretofore, and thus far very few fishermen have made any money.

The unprofitable menhaden fishing season of last year has had a tendency to delay the beginning of operations in this industry this year. As yet only a few of the plants have begun operations, and these on a small scale than formerly. The operators of these plants are evidently waiting to see what the prospects are before sending out their usual number of steamers and employing their full quotas of hands.

For the past two years these concerns have employed local labor instead of getting hands from the Eastern cities as heretofore. This has had a tendency to withdraw many laborers from the farms, and to create almost a labor panic in some sections of Lancaster and Northumberland counties, as the men and boys receive much larger wages in the fish factories and on the fishing steamers than they can get on the farms.

SUCCESSOR TO DR. LLOYD.

Rev. M. P. Logan of Nashville May Be Elected Archdeacon.

Wytheville, Va., May 6.—From what can be learned it is regarded as more than probable that Rev. M. P. Logan, of Nashville, Tenn., will be elected by the Convocation of Southwestern Virginia to succeed the late John J. Lloyd as archdeacon. As is known, Mr. Lloyd's work was principally in the field of education, and his residence was at Big Stone Gap, in Wise county. Dr. Logan was born at Salem, where he was reared, and he has spent the larger part of his ministry in Southwest Virginia.

Dr. C. D. Owens will resign from the School Board of Wytheville, to take effect June 1, and the teachers for the coming year will not be elected for the Wytheville schools until after Dr. Owens' successor is elected and qualified.

GRUBB "HOME PLACE" SOLD.

Harrisonburg, Va., May 6.—A deed was admitted to record Saturday from Dr. J. M. Biedler, executor of the estate of Reuben M. Grubb, conveying to L. L. Yancy and Samuel Armstrong, of the Latona neighborhood, a tract of land, containing about 10 acres, and known as the Grubb "Home Place" for Grubb, the eccentric bachelor farmer of the Paulington neighborhood, who blew his brains out with a Winchester rifle about the 1st of January, leaving a will, in which the bulk of his property was bequeathed in trust to the trustees of the Rockingham Hospital, the income to be used for paying the expenses of indigent patients from Harrisonburg and Rockingham County while at the hospital for treatment.

ROANOKE HIKERS ON TRIP.

Party Impressed With Wonders of Goodwin's Cave Near Glenvar.

Roanoke, Va., May 6.—Through the genius of W. E. Laughon, a party of hikers was worked up for a trip to Goodwin's Cave near Glenvar. The party consisted of W. E. Laughon, W. J. Hatcher, D. Hickok, A. E.

Hitch, the stalactites and stalagmites add much to its beauty.

Messrs. Laughon, Hatcher and Hickok took the snake fashion and followed a stream channel back quite a distance out of the cave, making the skin of their backs as well as their chests and knees. Mr. Hatcher ascended the other side, and after a while through a hole which would not admit of his feet.

The again united party decided to make their way back to the surface after being underground with artificial light for an hour and twenty-eight minutes. After several snapshots dinner was served.

On the way back to the station the party stopped at several places to get milk and drink. They drank five gallons at different intervals. They unanimously consented to bathe in the tempting water, which was enjoyed by every one.

The party reached Roanoke promptly at 6:30, and, being sympathizers with the car strikers, took pedestrian journeys home.

FAINTS ON ELECTRIC CAR.

Young Woman in France for Several Hours.

Alexandria, Va., May 6.—Miss Lucy Henderson, who resides at 611 South Patrick Street, while on her way from Washington to Alexandria Sunday night fainted while on the electric car near St. Asaph Junction. Several of the passengers endeavored to resuscitate her without avail. When she arrived at King and Henry streets she was taken to the drug store of Dr. J. A. Dineen, where medical attention was rendered. She regained consciousness and was successful, and Dr. Arthur Snowden was called in. After working over her for several hours without her regaining consciousness she was taken to her home. The trance was a result of hysteria. Miss Henderson having had several trances and regaining consciousness after several hours.

Pulaski, Va., May 6.—Christ Episcopal Church will be formally consecrated on the evening of May 12, Tuesday, at 8 o'clock. The church is a handsome building, and the service had to be indefinitely postponed. The date has been fixed for the 12th instant.

ALLEGED FORGER PHOTOGRAPHED.

Record of Stranger Recorded by Officers in Bertillon System.

Lynchburg, Va., May 6.—The stranger who was arrested last Tuesday at a charge of passing checks and who is alleged to have signed the names of Ernest Swanger to the paper said to be worthless, was this morning taken to a studio by Detective Irvin for the purpose of having his photograph made for the Bertillon. The prisoner did not seem to mind posing before the camera, and after several pictures were taken by the photographer he was escorted back to the station-house and there supplied the officers with such other information as was needed in obtaining an accurate description of his appearance.

The man answered the questions put to him willingly, and announced during the interrogation that the officers would sooner or later find out that they had the wrong man. He stated that he was acquainted with the party wanted, and if he was liberating him he would assist in bringing him to justice.

His girl-wife is still in the city at a private boarding-house, and will doubtless remain here to testify at the preliminary hearing as soon as it is held.

GIVES INSTRUCTION TO BOYS' CORN CLUB

Agricultural Demonstrator Visits Schools in Lancaster—Satisfactory Work on Public Roads in Northern Neck.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Lancaster, Va., May 6.—B. A. Warriner, agricultural demonstrator for the counties of Lancaster and Northumberland, spent last week in visiting the public schools in certain sections of Lancaster to give instruction to the boys' corn clubs that he succeeded in organizing during the past winter.

Work of the public roads in the four lower counties of the Northern Neck is going on with very satisfactory results. Z. G. Durpee, who is directing the work in this section, was here during the past week, and expressed himself as highly pleased with the way in which the work is progressing. As the agent for the State Highway Commission, he has charge of the work in the seven counties in the Lower Rappahannock Valley. Work is now going on in Lancaster, Northumberland, Richmond, Westmoreland, Mathews and Middlesex, and in a few weeks work will be resumed on the roads in Essex.

In Westmoreland a movement is on foot to raise money for road building by the circuit court for Westmoreland a petition was presented to Judge Wright praying the court to order an election on the proposition in Washington District, in that county, but, owing to some irregularity in the petition, no action was taken by the court. Judge Wright, however, promised to consider the petition at the next session. The improved roads that have been built in this section have served as an object lesson to remove all objections to the policy of scientific road building, and it is believed that soon or later all the counties of the Northern Neck will issue bonds to complete the work so auspiciously begun.

As the greatest religious revival of the past few years in this section has just closed at the Kinsale Methodist Church, in the lower part of Westmoreland. The pastor of the church, the Rev. B. E. Hudson, was assisted by the Rev. C. H. Kidd, pastor of the Methodist churches in Richmond County. Conservative estimates put the number of conversions and reclamations at 150.

An epidemic of measles is prevailing in many neighborhoods of the Northern Neck, but as yet no serious cases have been reported.

The Rev. Frederick W. Claybrook, who on account of advancing age, recently retired from active service in the Baptist ministry, is reported to be seriously ill at his home in the village of Kilmarnock. He belongs to one of the oldest and most prominent families of the Northern Neck, and has many warm friends in all parts of Virginia.

Mrs. Sallie Parker, wife of James H. Parker, died one day last week at her home near the Rev. C. H. Kidd, pastor of the Methodist churches in Richmond County. In the sixty-eight year of her age. Her remains were interred in the cemetery at Lebanon Methodist Church, of which she had been an active and useful member from early youth.

Last Wednesday morning Miss Frances Lyell Rock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Taylor Rock, was married at the home of her parents at Litwiltown, District, in that county, but, owing to some irregularity in the petition, no action was taken by the court. Judge Wright, however, promised to consider the petition at the next session.
